FOREWORD

The first legislative assembly of Dakota Territory met in 1862 and drew up a complete set of school laws and made provisions for establishing a school system. In 1864, the assembly set up a board of education for the Territory. This was 25 years prior to North Dakota becoming a state. In 1889, the Constitution of the State of North Dakota provided for a state superintendent of public instruction with statutes enacted in 1890 charging the state superintendent with the supervision of the common and secondary schools of the state. From the beginning, education has been a priority for North Dakota citizens.

Education continues to be a priority as we move forward into the twenty-first century and help prepare North Dakota students to be career and college ready. Innovative programs such as, the National Math and Science Initiative, the Math and Science Partnership, Leveraging the Senior Year, Advance Placement Courses, STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Mathematics), After School Programs, and Early Childhood Education are examples of the scholastic avenues we are providing for our students.

And now with the new authorization of the Every Student Succeeds Act, there is greater opportunity for education and innovation to come together for the benefit of our North Dakota students. Education and innovation are critical elements that will continue to provide opportunities for our teachers and students to develop skills and serve as a basis to create new and resourceful jobs for North Dakota and our country. Education and innovation will inspire creativity that shapes ideas into careers not yet imagined.

With that in mind, I am proud to present the 2015-2016 North Dakota Educational Directory. We hope it will be a helpful and valuable reference tool.

Yours in education and innovation,

Kirsten Baesler

Since 1890 the North Dakota School for the Deaf (NDSD) has been educating students who are deaf or hard of hearing (North Dakota Century Code Chapter 25-07). In recent years the school expanded its name to include Resource Center for Deaf and Hard of Hearing (RCDHH). The NDSD/RCDHH now serves people of all ages—not just children—who are deaf or hard of hearing.

Mission Statement: To provide an environment in which individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing can access the services and support that they may need to become and remain integrated, productive citizens of the state.

Purpose: To develop, coordinate, and maintain a comprehensive continuum of services for all citizens who are deaf or hard of hearing (infants through senior citizens).

The NDSD/RCDHH is fully accredited and specializes in speech and language development for students who are deaf or hard of hearing. Children, birth to 3 years of age, are served through the Parent/Infant program (specialized instruction in the home). Elementary and middle school students are served through school programming. Educational services for grades 9 through graduation are provided in partnership with the district of residence or with Devils Lake Public Schools. Adults (deaf and later deafened adults) may access various services through one adult outreach program.

In addition to the school's traditional role as an educational institution, NDSD/RCDHH also has become a state resource center on deafness. Through collaborative ventures with other agencies, NDSD/RCDHH outreach programs have increased delivery of services including: consultations, evaluations and assessments, and off-campus educational services.
