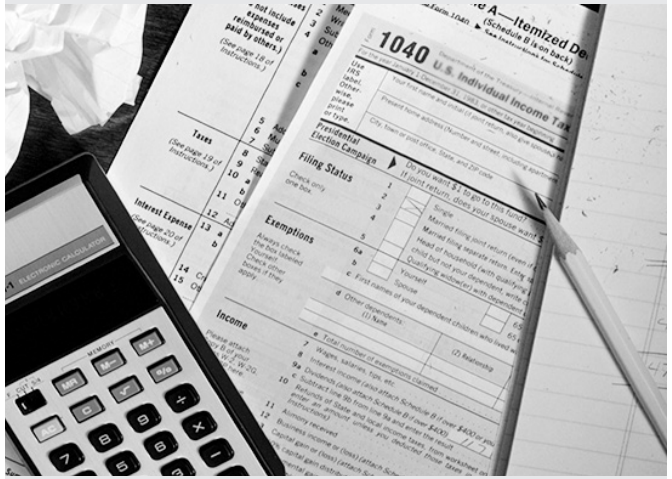
How to Protest a Tax Assessment or a Denial of a Claim for Refund



The procedures for filing a protest to a Notice of Determination or Notice of Refund Change

Office of State Tax Commissioner
Ryan Rauschenberger

A Note from the Commissioner

Dear Taxpayer:

Sometimes our office may assess additional tax or deny a claim for refund. We want you to know that you have the right to file a protest if this happens to you and you disagree with our decision.

This pamphlet explains how to file a protest of our decision. It also lets you know what we must do to respond to it.

You can contact our office (see page 5) if you have any questions about these procedures.

Ryan Rauschenberger

Tax Commissioner

Purpose

These procedures apply if [illegible]eive one of the following documents:

- Notice of Determination: This notice is used to inform you that you owe additional tax.*
- Notice of Refund Change: This notice is used to inform you that we have denied part or all of your claim for credit or refund.

These procedures do not apply if you receive a notice because of a mathematical or clerical error.

* Note: In some cases, a Notice of Refund Change will be incorporated into a Notice of Determination when we deny a refund claim and assess additional tax.

What You Must Do To File a Protest

A protest consists of a Notice of Protest and a Statement of Grounds, as explained below.

1. Filing a Notice of Protest

2. Filing a Statement of Grounds

Within ninety days of the postmark date of the Notice of Determination or Notice of Refund Change, you must file a Statement of Grounds. To file a Statement of Grounds, prepare a letter stating your specific objections for filing the protest.

Note: You may combine the Notice of Protest and Statement of Grounds into one letter provided you file the letter within thirty days (ninety days if you live outside the United States) of the postmark date of the Notice of Determination or Notice of Refund Change.

3. Mailing your Notice of Protest and Statement of Grounds

Mail your Notice of Protest and Statement of Grounds to the following address:

Director, Tax Administration Division
Office of State Tax Commissioner
600 E. Boulevard Ave. Dept. 127
Bismarck, ND 58505-0599

Note: It is recommended, but not required, that you use certified mail.

Other Information You Need to Know

- Extension of time to file: You may request an extension of time to file any of the documents required under these procedures.
- Special mailing rules: If the last day of a time period falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the time period extends to the end of the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday. Add three days (six days if out of state) to allow for mail delivery.

  Example: If a Notice of Determination postmarked May 15 is mailed inside North Dakota, the Notice of Protest must be postmarked no later than June 17. If June 17 falls on a Saturday or Sunday, the Notice of Protest must be postmarked no later than the following Monday.
- Law: These procedures are based on North Dakota Century Code §§ 57-38-39 and 57-38-40 (income tax), § 57-43.1-17
