

Improved Career Decision Making, T&L 900 Reflections and Application

The following outlines the credit requirements for this ICDM workshop:

1. Reflections on new learning:
 - Participate in class and group activities to show evidence of your understanding of the material and how to access information
 - Research information and share results with the class
 - Complete a reflection activity online that summarizes learning and the most meaningful information gleaned from the workshop
2. Application of new learning:
 - Develop a local (personal) plan outlining what resources will be useful to you in your work and how you intend to utilize the resources

Submitting Your Assignment

Assignments must be submitted electronically via the Career Resource Network website.

1. Visit the CRN Workshop page at the Career Resource Network website www.nd.gov/cte/crn/workshops.html.
2. Log in with the e-mail address you used to register for the workshop.
3. Click on the  button beneath the workshop for which you are submitting an assignment.
4. You can type your assignment directly into the text box; however, we recommend typing and saving your assignment in your word processor of choice and then “cutting and pasting” the text into the text box on our website.
5. Click on  and then .
6. If you have no other assignments to attach to your record, click on the  button at the bottom of the registration form.
7. A copy of the submitted assignment(s) will automatically be returned to participants via e-mail.

