Detailed Reports

Refer to previous Incident Summaries, as necessary.

LOCAL

Cass County

- ARGUSVILLE: The city is well protected by dikes and is 2-3 days away from the crest. There remains concern for the rural residents isolated by flood waters. Overland flooding is heavy between Argusville and Harwood.
- KINDRED: Is well protected from the Sheyenne River. A resident of Davenport reported water was along Highway 27 between Kindred and Davenport.
- DAVENPORT: The new protective dike to the west was complete and tied into the railroad tracks.
- Cass County has submitted a draft letter to Oxbow and Briarwood concerning the Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP). The county administrator indicated there will be two buy outs.
- Flooding near ND Highway 17 north of Horace is a new area of concern.

Barnes County

- The Barnes County EOC will be staffed 12 hours daily from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. – April 21
- Tomahawk Dam has breached due to erosion. An excavator and rock fill has been sent to the site to repair the dam/road structure and mitigate potential damage to downstream roadways. – April 20
- The Board of Commissioners allowed residents of the town of Kathryn to return home. Erosion at the Clausen Spring Dam has stabilized. – April 19

- The county EOC, in collaboration with Moore Engineering, has determined the flow at Clausen Springs Dam has diminished enough to end NDNG monitoring. – April 19
- As of Saturday afternoon, the city of Valley City remains without sewer service. There are approximately 400 portable toilets dispersed throughout the city. Pipe has been ordered for construction of a temporary sewer bypass. Use of the sewer system is banned. The city water system is still charged and water is safe to drink. – April 18

Cavalier County

- Water levels are receding in the Pembina River area and roads are being repaired. – April 20
- There are reports of water damage to homes in the city of Langdon. – April 20
- Livestock deaths: 22 cattle - April 20

Dickey County

- To protect the electrical controls and pumps of the city of Oakes sewer system, no water traffic is allowed between County Road 3 south to the railroad tracks. – April 20

Hettinger County

- Livestock deaths: 54 cows, 4 yearlings, 122 calves. Two producers requested assistance with livestock feed. – April 20

Pembina County

- The USACE continues work on the dike at Neche. The water from Windy Gates is expected to reach Neche on April 20th or 21st. –April 20

Ransom County

- Red Cross cleanup kits are being distributed. The county is awaiting FEMA results of the FEMA Public Assistance (PA) Preliminary Damage Assessment (PDA). – April 20

Sargent County

- Townships officials continue to monitor roads for repair work, signing and warnings. Infrastructure damage is minimal. Minor flood damage to homes is reported. – April 20

Stutsman County

- Jamestown Public Works officials reported the water supply is good and they are monitoring the sewer system, which is meeting demand. – April 20
- An evacuation plan will be placed on the county website, www.co.stutsman.nd.us. This plan divides the city of Jamestown into 13 zones. – April 20
- The Jamestown Chief of Police indicated the department is taking a tougher approach to people walking on the levee. The chief is working with the city attorney for a modification to the existing emergency declaration to ensure boaters stay off the water. – April 20
- A flood call center has been established in the city of Jamestown, 251-6271.
