What is a newly hired employee?

A newly hired employee is an employee who was not previously employed by you or was previously employed by you but was separated from that previous employment for at least 60 days in a row and has now returned to work for you.

How do I know if I am an employer who needs to report new hires?

The definition of "employer" for new hire reporting purposes is the same definition used for federal income tax wage withholding purposes (as defined by section 3401(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986) and includes any governmental entity and any labor organization. As a general rule, if an employer is required to give an employee a W-2 form showing the amount of taxes withheld, the employer must comply with the new hire reporting requirements.

How do I know if the person I just hired needs to be reported?

The definition of "employee" for new hire reporting purposes is the same definition used for federal income tax wage withholding purposes (as defined by Chapter 24 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986). As a general rule, if an employee is given a W-2 form showing the amount of taxes withheld, that employee fits the definition for new hire reporting.

When must I report?

The report must be made no later than 20 days after the employee's date of hire.
