Collette Fitness Center closes to public access

BISMARCK, N.D. – The Life Skills and Transition Center (LSTC) in Grafton announced today that it is limiting access to its Collette Fitness Center to LSTC residents. The fitness center was closed last week to review its business operations.

The change in public access is effective immediately, and is not due to any budget considerations or event.

Fitness club members with prepaid membership fees should watch for additional information in the mail.

The LSTC is a state-operated, comprehensive support agency serving people with intellectual and developmental disabilities. It is part of the North Dakota Department of Human Services.
