WHAT IS FOSTER CARE FOR CHILDREN?

Foster care is a supportive service available to families when children are placed in the custody of a public agency (Human Service Zone, Tribe, or Division of Juvenile Services). Foster care is considered when alternatives to out of home placement, including relative placement, have been explored and attempted to divert the child from entering foster care.

FOSTER PARENTS OFFER A CHILD:

- Basic needs
- Safety and security
- Guidance and comfort
- Family support
- Routine and structure
- Participation in the child’s case plan goals and tasks, including transportation to needed medical or mental health appointments, school, activities, family visitation, etc

WHY DO I SEE REFERENCE TO FOSTER OR ADOPT?

When children enter foster care and their case plan results in a termination of parental rights, the child becomes legally free for adoption and would be in need of a forever family. Foster parents may choose to be considered an adoption option for the child.
