

Improving Healthcare. Empowering You.

WHAT IS THE NDHIN?

The North Dakota Health Information Network (NDHIN) is a system created to securely share your health information by connecting your doctors' electronic health record systems.

The NDHIN office is responsible for implementing this information network and promoting proper handling of patient data. This is done by training health personnel and improving the record sharing process by utilizing a secure, medical record-sharing network, which in turn benefit patients with higher quality care.

We aim to empower patients by ensuring their medical data remains safe and private.

OUR VISION

Quality healthcare for all North Dakotans anywhere, anytime.
