Dear Friends,

Welcome to North Dakota agriculture! Whether you live in our beautiful state or are just visiting, please take some time to get to know our farmers and ranchers.

North Dakota has the land, the climate and, most importantly, the people to grow quality food in abundance. In fact, almost 25 percent of our workforce is supported by agriculture, and 90 percent of our land is used to support it.

An important segment of our agriculture industry is local foods, a movement based on the direct sales of farm products to local buyers. Examples of the local foods movement – farmers markets, food co-ops, community supported agriculture (CSAs), community orchards, roadside stands and pick-your-own gardens – are growing in numbers and size across our state.

Our Local Foods Directory will help you find the growers and the products you are looking for. It lists North Dakota farmers markets and producers by county and alphabetically. It also provides lists of products that can be found at the markets or are directly available from producers.

Please contact us at the North Dakota Department of Agriculture if you have any questions about our farmers markets and direct-from-the-farm sales. You can reach us at ndda@nd.gov, or 701-328-2231.

The more we can continue to connect each person to agriculture, the stronger the industry will be in the future. Thank you for being part of that important connection.

Sincerely,

Doug Goehring
Agriculture Commissioner

INDEX
43
This directory lists North Dakota farmers markets, products and services that are available directly from the farmer. You can search by region, service or name.

SEARCH BY REGION
This directory separates North Dakota into four regions. Farm and market listings are sorted alphabetically by county.

- Northwest pg. 8
- Northeast pg. 15
- Southwest pg. 22
- Southeast pg. 29

SEARCH BY SERVICE
Farm and market listings are sorted into categories based on the services they provide. Refer to the Quick Lists starting on page 38 to find your favorite farmers market, CSA, roadside stand, U-Pick, or other service.

SEARCH BY NAME
If you know the name of the farm or market, you can find it quickly by referring to the Index on page 43.

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Aquaponics</td>
<td>A system combining aquaculture with hydroponics in which aquatic animals and hydroponically-grown plants are cultivated together.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Certified Organic</td>
<td>Organic food is produced without: antibiotics; growth hormones; most conventional pesticides; petroleum-based fertilizers or sewage sludge-based fertilizers; bioengineering; or ionizing radiation. USDA certification is required before a product can be labeled “organic.” Companies, including restaurants, that handle or process organic food must be certified also.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Community-Supported Agriculture (CSA)</td>
<td>A community of individuals who pledge support to a farm operation with the growers and consumers providing mutual support and sharing the risks and benefits of food production. Members pledge in advance to cover the anticipated costs of the farm operation and farmer’s salary. In return, they receive shares in the farm’s bounty throughout the growing season.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farmers Market</td>
<td>A multi-stall market at which farmer-producers sell agricultural products directly to the general public at a central or fixed location, particularly fresh fruit and vegetables (but also meat products, dairy products, and/or grains).</td>

The North Dakota Farmers Market and Growers Association (NDFMGA) is a marketing organization that is geared to help members improve their marketing skills and to assist in supporting locally grown and processed North Dakota products.

NDFMGA’s PURPOSE is to:

1. Build a farmers market program that connects producers and consumers

2. Develop marketing tools and strategies for producers and market managers to ensure long-term sustainability of rural North Dakota

3. Increase consumer and producer awareness of the benefits of fresh, locally-grown products

MEMBERSHIP is open to everyone who is engaged in the production—or promotion of direct marketing—of freshly grown or processed North Dakota products.

This seasonal eating guide provides general availability of many fruits and vegetables that can be found in North Dakota.

Buying local, in-season produce has many benefits, including:
- More of the food dollar for our family farmers
- New community events and relationships with our farmers
- Opportunities to try a variety of unusual vegetables

This is brought to you by the North Dakota Department of Agriculture in partnership with North Dakota State University Extension Service. The information should be used as a general guideline; actual availability varies year to year.

Hunger Free North Dakota Garden Project

The North Dakota Department of Agriculture (NDDA) has partnered with the Great Plains Food Bank and a number of other organizations to help increase the availability of fresh produce across the state. In six years, the program has recorded over 1,400,000 lbs. of donations.

You can help in this endeavor! Plant an extra row or acre to donate to a participating organization in your community. Every bit helps in achieving our annual goal of distributing 250,000 lbs. of fresh produce to local food pantries, shelters and other charitable organizations across the state.

To find out where you can donate your fresh produce, visit www.nd.gov/ndda.

For more information, contact Jamie Good at 701-328-2659 or email jgood@nd.gov.
