Use Caution at Jamestown Area Rest Stops

JAMESTOWN, N.D. – Motorists are urged to use caution at the rest stops in the Jamestown area. The North Dakota Highway Patrol has received calls from the public regarding two males in a paper-plated white Kia approaching them and asking for money.

One caller was approached twice and reported the man had his arm in a sling the second time he made contact with her. All incidents were reported as occurring in the evening and early morning hours. The men left the scene by the time law enforcement arrived.
