F. Extradition

The parties agree to follow the Tribe and State extradition laws and procedures depicted herein.

i. Tribal Extradition Procedures for State Warrants

1. The Chairperson of the Judiciary Committee of the Three Affiliated Tribes Tribal Business Council (hereinafter “Judiciary Committee Chairperson”), or any individual designated by him/her to act in his/her absence, shall have the authority to have apprehended and delivered up to the executive authority of any Indian tribe, state, or the United States, any person charged with or convicted of a felony, who has fled from justice and is found within the exterior boundaries of the Reservation.
2. A formal demand for extradition must be made in writing by the demanding sovereign alleging that the individual was present within the jurisdiction of the demanding sovereign at the time of the commission of the alleged crime and that, thereafter, he/she fled from the jurisdiction of the sovereign. Accompanying the formal demand shall be a copy of any warrant outstanding against the individual, a copy of any judgment of conviction or any sentence imposed in execution thereof, or a statement by an appropriate agent of the demanding sovereign that the individual has escaped from confinement or has violated the terms or conditions of his bail, probation, or parole. Additionally, the Judiciary Committee Chairperson shall receive a copy of any indictment, a copy of any information or complaint supported by an affidavit, or a copy of an affidavit made before a magistrate or judge in said jurisdiction. The indictment, information, complaint, or affidavit made before a magistrate or judge must substantially charge the individual whose extradition is demanded with having committed a felony under the laws of that sovereign. The copy of the indictment, information, complaint, affidavit, judgment of conviction, or sentence shall be authenticated by an appropriate agent of the demanding sovereign.
3. If the Judiciary Committee Chairperson determines that the demand should be complied with, he/she shall cause a judge of the Tribe’s Court to sign a warrant for apprehension which shall be directed to each of the Tribe’s law enforcement officer for execution. The warrant shall authorize any of the Tribe’s law enforcement officers to apprehend the individual at any time and any place where he/she may be found within the Reservation, and to command the aid of all the Tribe’s law enforcement officers in the execution of the warrant.
4. No individual apprehended under such warrant shall be delivered directly over to an agent of the demanding sovereign. He/She shall first be taken forthwith before a Tribal judge who shall inform him/her of the demand made for his/her extradition, the felony with which he/she has been charged or of which he/she has been convicted, his/her right to demand and secure legal counsel, and his/her right to a full hearing to challenge the proposed extradition.

5. A full hearing shall be held within seventy-two (72) hours after the individual is apprehended to test the validity of the arrest. It will be presumed that the individual arrested desires a full hearing, unless the individual waives such hearing by executing in the presence of a Tribal judge a writing which states that he/she consents to the return to the demanding sovereign without a full hearing on the proposed extradition.
6. If, from the examination of the evidence presented at a hearing before a Tribal judge, it appears that the individual held is, in fact, the individual whose extradition is demanded and that he/she has fled from justice, the judge shall, by an order reciting his determination, commit him/her to a Tribal detention facility until such time, not exceeding thirty (30) days, as the Judiciary Committee Chairperson has surrendered him/her to an agent of the demanding sovereign.
7. Unless the offense, with which the individual has been charged or of which he/she has been convicted, is shown to be an offense punishable by death or life imprisonment under the laws of the jurisdiction in which it was committed, the Tribal judge may, in lieu of confinement, admit the person arrested to bail by bond, with sufficient sureties in such a sum as he deems proper, until he/she is surrendered to an agent of the demanding sovereign.
8. The Judiciary Committee Chairperson shall also have the authority to demand the return of an individual charged with a crime, with escaping from confinement, or with violating the terms or conditions of his bail, probation, or parole within the Reservation, from the executive authority of any other sovereign authorized to receive such demand.
9. When the return to the Reservation of an individual charged with or convicted of a crime within the Reservation is required, a Tribal judge shall present to the Judiciary Committee Chairperson a written application for the return of such individual. The application shall state the name of the individual, the crime with which he/she has been charged or of which he/she has been convicted, the approximate time, place and circumstances of its commission, and the jurisdiction in which he/she is believed to be, including location of the individual in such jurisdiction, at the time the application is made. The application shall certify that, in the opinion of the judge, the ends of justice require the arrest and return of the individual to the Reservation for trial or other hearing and that the proceeding is not instituted to enforce a private claim.
10. An individual returned to the Reservation by means of extradition based on a criminal charge shall not be subject to personal service of process in any civil action arising out of the same circumstances involved in the criminal proceeding, until he/she has been finally convicted or, if acquitted, until he/she has had reasonable opportunity to return to the jurisdiction from which he/she was extradited.

11. Nothing contained in these Procedures shall be deemed to constitute a waiver by the Tribe of their right, power, or privilege to try such demanded individual for any crime committed within the Reservation or of their right, power, or privilege to regain custody of such individual by extradition proceedings for the purpose of trial, sentence, or punishment for any crime committed with the Reservation.

ii. State Extradition Procedures for Tribal Warrants

1. 29-06.1-01. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

 - a. A peace officer may arrest a person subject to a tribal arrest warrant if presented with the warrant and may arrest a person without a tribal arrest warrant upon probable cause to believe that the person is the subject of such a warrant. An arrest is authorized under this subsection only if the arrest warrant is issued for commission of a crime punishable as a misdemeanor under the applicable tribal ordinance or resolution.
 - b. The arrested person must be brought without unnecessary delay before the nearest available district judge.
 - c. The district judge shall issue an order continuing custody upon presentation of the tribal arrest warrant or, if the arrest is made without a warrant, upon testimony or affidavit showing probable cause to believe the person is the subject of such a warrant.

 - a. The district judge shall inform the person appearing under section 29-06.1-02 of the name of the tribe that has subjected the person to an arrest warrant, the basis for the arrest warrant, the right to assistance of counsel, and the right to require a judicial hearing before transfer of custody to the applicable tribal authority.
 - b. After being informed by the district judge of the effect of a waiver, the arrested person may waive the right to require a judicial hearing and consent to return to the applicable tribal authority by executing a written waiver in the presence of the judge. If the waiver is executed, the judge shall issue an order to transfer custody under section 29-06.1-04 or, with the consent of the applicable tribal authority, authorize the voluntary return of the person to that authority.
 - c. If a hearing is not waived under subsection 2, the district judge shall hold a hearing within three days, excluding weekends and holidays, after the appearance. The arrested person and the state's attorney of the county in which the hearing is to be held must be informed of the time and place of the hearing. enforcement office to maintain custody of the person until the time of the hearing. Following the hearing, the judge shall issue an order to transfer custody under section 29-06.1-04 unless the arrested person establishes by clear and convincing evidence that the arrested person is not the person identified in the warrant.

- d. If the judge does not order transfer of custody, the judge shall order the arrested person to be released.
4. 29-06.1-04. Order to transfer custody.
 - a. A judicial order to transfer custody issued under section 29-06.1-03 must direct a law enforcement officer to take or retain custody of the person until an agent of the applicable tribal authority is available to take custody. If the agent has not taken custody within three days, excluding weekends and holidays, the judge may order the release of the person upon conditions that will assure the person's availability on a specified date within seven days, excluding weekends and holidays. If the agent has not taken custody within the time specified in the order, the person must be released. Thereafter, an order to transfer custody may be entered only if a new arrest warrant is issued.
 - b. The judge in the order transferring custody may authorize the voluntary return of the person with the consent of the applicable tribal authority.
 - c. An order to transfer custody is not appealable. An order denying transfer is appealable.
