North Dakota Highway Patrol Promotes Dvorak

BISMARCK, N.D. – NDHP Colonel Brandon Solberg announces the promotion of Sergeant Adam Dvorak to the rank of Lieutenant.

A native of Grand Forks, Dvorak graduated from the University of North Dakota with a degree in Criminal Justice and Sociology. He began his career with the NDHP in 2002. After graduating from the Law Enforcement Training Academy, Dvorak served as a trooper in Finley, Grafton, and Grand Forks.

Dvorak was promoted to Sergeant in 2013 and served as a regional sergeant in Williston, he then served in Fargo and most recently in Grand Forks.

Dvorak will serve as the Assistant Operations Commander stationed at NDHP headquarters. He will also continue to serve as a member of the Emergency Response team. Colonel Solberg presented Dvorak with a certificate and Lieutenant bars at a promotional ceremony in Grand Forks March 26.
