E-File Instruction Guide

April 2009

Introduction

Welcome to the North Dakota Motor Fuels Tax E-file service! E-file is a secure web based application for submitting your monthly electronic fuel tax reports. E-file uses Secure Socket Layer (SSL) encryption to ensure your information is secure and protected. The purpose of this guideline is to instruct users how to register on-line and use the web application.

Eligible Users

Any company or individual that has completed the registration process and conducted a successful application test will be able to submit monthly fuel tax reports using E-file.

Registration Process

Registration for E-file is a quick three-step process: (Step 1) Each person (user) who accesses E-file must create a North Dakota Login ID and password. (Step 2) An E-file Registration Application for each company, with the applicable FEIN and state assigned suffix, must be completed and submitted to obtain an authorization code to allow users access to information regarding that company. (Step 3) The registration is completed by entering the FEIN with the state assigned suffix and an authorization code provided by the Tax Commissioner. If you submit reports for multiple companies you must complete Step 2 and Step 3 for each company.

After a registration application has been submitted in Step 2, the Tax Commissioner will mail an authorization code to the individual who completed the registration at the mailing address the Tax Commissioner has on file for that company. This prevents an unauthorized user from registering and gaining access to a company's account. When the registration is completed in Step 3, only the user who registered the company in Step 2 may use the authorization code mailed by the Tax Commissioner's Office. Any authorized user may obtain another authorization code on-line so that an additional user can complete a registration (Step 3) and obtain access to that company's account.

In addition, any authorized user may terminate another authorized user's access to a company account by selecting the View Authorized Users option on the main menu. This option allows for the removal of access to the system for outside professionals or employees that no longer should have access.

Step 1: Obtain North Dakota Login ID and Password

(Go to www.nd.gov/tax/fuel/electfiling/ and click Access E-file.)

- A. Click Register Now.
- B. Complete Registration page.
